

56. I Like People – Straight And Enthusiastic (1:49)

I like people. There's no question. I like people - if they relate back to me at all.

I think it shows because people know I'm interested in them if they respond to me at all. I think that's the way God made me and it really works.

I mean I got neighbors that put that sign on - did you see the sign on the front on the sidewalk "Have a good day." That's Wendy over here. I see that every morning when I get ready to go on my walk. Now that has nothing to do with the Coast Guard. That has to do with the way my life has been.

The guys really did buy some of the stuff I was feeding them all the time. By just being straight, you know, being straight military. I'm the straightest guy they ever knew. "You never change. You're exactly the same as we first saw you in McAlister Hall. Even your voice sounds the same. It's always so enthusiastic. You are just an enthusiastic guy."

I evidently do project some of that because people keep telling me that's your voice. You all know me well enough to know that if you caught me alone I'd talk to you for as long as you dare (laughter).

Well why do I do that? Because I've got loving people in my life and they're standing right here in front of me making me feel like a million dollars

Related Primary Leadership Principles

Attitude	Capacity to Care
Connectivity	Decision-Making
Drive to Achieve	Feedback
Field Presence	High Energy
Information	Recognition
Spirituality	